Each post has a call to action that redirects to the post detail page. The posts need to have a link that takes the user to the post detail page. The problem is, I want to display the links only if they are not already in the display menu (that is, the first ng-repeat in the menu). I have already thought of doing a conditional in the HTML ng-click, but that is not very elegant. Any suggestions? HTML 595f342e71
